

Sefton County Council

'focus solutions, exceptional results'

"FGI provides Sefton Council with PRINCE2® and Project Management training which has greatly assisted us in applying practical project management skills to the direct benefit of the Council. We were extremely impressed with the professionalism in which these courses were delivered and consider FGI to be an integral training partner."

Carl Ramsbottom - Business Support Manager, Sefton Council, Merseyside

Sefton Borough Council required a Project Management training programme that covered both generic and PRINCE2 elements. This would allow the council to not only deliver projects more effectively, but to also meet recommended Government guidelines for project management in the public sector. Requiring a combined solution specific to the needs of Sefton, FGI provided the council with a bespoke training solution.

- Project management Training Needs Analysis (TNA) undertaken by FGI trainer
- Course outline agreed between FGI and Sefton Borough Council
- Methodology & objectives set
- 4 groups of 8 delegates trained on-site over a period of 2 days

Project management skills to enable the consistent delivery of effective projects through a controlled, well-managed, visible set of activities.

- Post course evaluation
- Workshop day held one month after initial training course to identify skill/knowledge gaps requiring further development
- Improved Project Management skills leading to greater efficiency and effectiveness
